Bishop Will Preside At Ceremonies to be Held in New Lenox

Dedication of St. Jude's church on W. Second ave., New Lenox is to take place Sunday afternoon, Oct. 26 at 3 o'clock with Bishop Martin D. McNamara of the Joliet diocese, officiating.

Bishop McNamara will bless the exterior and interior of the church and following this ceremony will administer the sacrament of confirmation to approximately 200 children and adults.

Assisting the bishop at the dedication will be the Rev. Roman Hasenstaab, O.F.M., pastor of St. Jude's church, of Cleveland, Ohio, who will be deacon, and Fr. John Klaes, pastor of St. Isidore church, Bartlett, Ill. Both priests were former pastors of the New Lenox parish, who will serve as sub-deacon. The Rev. William Condon will be master of ceremonies and the Knights of Columbus will form a guard of honor for the bishop.

Many priests and sisters from the area are expected to attend the ceremonies. Harry Griffin, parish organizer, will be in charge of the music. The adult parish choir will sing.

St. Jude's was established as a mission church in 1934 with Father Roman as pastor. He served as such until July, 1943 when he was replaced by Father Klaes who remained in charge until Dec. 1949 when the present pastor, the Rev. Denis Hall, O.F.M., assumed the duties.

It was under Father Klaes that the erection of the combination church and school began and the building continued to serve as such until the present structure was completed under the pastorate of Father Denis. The former building was remodeled this last summer into an eight-room school.

Father Denis broke ground for the new church in June, 1957. He celebrated the first mass there on Easter Sunday, April 6 of this year.

St. Jude's parish extends from Manhattan on the south side into Lockport township on the north and from Cherry Hill on the west to the Schuyl school road on the east. There are approximately 1,200 members.

The parish has now grown to where an assistant pastor has been named by Bishop McNamara. The assistant, first in the history of the parish, is the Rev. Faustin Klink, O.F.M. He was appointed last July.

The new church is a lovely one story, brick structure with

Mokena Band Boosters Push Sale Of Tickets to Aid Uniform Fund

The Mokena Grade School Band Boosters are sponsoring a dance to be held the night of Nov. 15 in the Carpenter street school. Proceeds will be added to the uniform fund.

The Band Boosters plan to purchase uniforms for the 38 youngsters in the band. These will be the property of the Boosters and by keeping them cleaned and in repair the uniforms can be passed along to the musicians that follow the present group.

It is estimated that the uniforms will cost $1,600. There is some money in the fund now and it is the hope of those backing the enterprise that enough more can be cleared from the dance to buy the uniforms this fall.

Arrangements have been made to use the corridors as well as the gymnasium to provide dancing space. The affair is scheduled to begin at 8:30 o'clock. Invitations have been extended to several disk jockeys, including Del Clark of WJJD. The recorded offerings from this station are popular among teens and near-teens.

Perry Friedman, director of the Mokena band, said that Tex Osborne, head of Tek records, and Edward Prouty, one of the popular singers under that label, will be on hand.

Refreshments will be served. The ticket sale is on in full swing. Youngsters in the band as well as members of the Band Boosters have them available.

Homer Church to Observe 125th Anniversary

Sunday, Oct. 26 will be a special day for Homer church. Members will observe the 125 anniversary of its organization, which took place Aug. 12, 1833, according to records. It is believed to have been the first church organized in Will county.

At that time the group met at Hadley under the sponsorship of the Presbyterians, later moving to the Wells Corner area and transferring their membership to a Congregational conference. Also on Oct. 26, the school property recently purchased by the church, will be dedicated for church purposes.

At the 10:45 a.m. services, the Rev. E. C. Ohlert, a former pastor at Homer, who is now a teacher of English and drama at Harvey, will preach; the choir will sing an anthem.

At the 2 p.m. services, those participating in the program will be the Rev. H. M. Finley, the Rev. A. E. Talbert and the Rev. Mr. Ohlert, all former ministers of the church here.

Also expected to be present are the Rev. Roy Hamer of Marley, Dr. Byron Reynolds of Rosemore, who represents Central Association of Congregational churches, J. W. Harms of the Greater Chicago Federation of Churches, and Supt. Cracker of Joliet, who will present the deed of the School property to the church.

Special music, and a social hour with light refreshments are being planned.

Night Bonfires Are Forbidden

Altho there is an ordinance on Mokena's books against burning trash, leaves or rubbish at anytime it is not expected there will be any rigid enforcement of the measure—in the daylight hours. However, such fires are forbidden when it becomes dark.

This was the gist of opinions brought out at the regular meeting of the village board Tuesday night. It was pointed out that trash fires after night fall are apt to be left unattended and the smoke from same, coupled with the darkness can create a dangerous hazard on streets and highways.

E. R. Friant, a Mokena contractor, complained to the board that some house holders in Mineral Springs subdivision had filled up

TIME TO SET CLOCKS BACK reminds Julie, pointing out that officially the change-over should be at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, Oct. 26—but she isn't going to wait up for it. Julie is the 19-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Medema, Jr., of Mokena, and while she was bright-eyed and wide-eyed when this picture was taken the truth is that not many minutes later she was asleep. That's what being young does. Actually changing the clock will not make too much difference to Julie and the others of her generation. They go to bed early and resume activities early but oldsters will find that it will be dark when they go home evenings after work and lighter when they get up in the morning. Safety experts urge persons driving back and forth to their jobs to be careful and adjust to the change in driving conditions. Clocks in the area will operate on standard time now until next April when they will be turned ahead again. (Marvin Smith photo)

Fight Zoning

Orland Twp. Group Opposes Change

A group of Orland township residents appeared before the Orland Park zoning board of appeals in the village hall Tuesday night to object to classification of a portion of the property owned by George J. Beemsterboer, Inc. at 159th and 105th ave. for light industry in the event that it should become annexed to the village.

A tract owned by Herman

Gee, adjoining the Beemsterboer property, has already been rezoned for light industry in the event it becomes a part of Orland Park. If the Beemsterboer property, which borders the village becomes annexed then the way is open for Gee's property to also be brought in to the village.

No announcement has been made as to what the board of appeals will do.

Mrs. Alberta Chartier, 108th ave., presented a petition to the board signed by representatives of 44 families objecting to any reclassification of the Beemsterboer property.

"Our neighborhood has a plan just as the village has a plan," Mrs. Chartier said. "The actual originators of the plan were the owners from whom

Can Aid Mentally Ill by Approving Bond Issue

By ANNE RODGER

Fifty per cent of the occupants of hospital beds in Illinois are mentally ill patients. While conditions in mental hospitals thruout America have improved greatly in the last decade, states have been unable to keep pace with the ever increasing need for more facilities and personnel to care for mental patients.

A disease, which responds to treatment like any physical disease, mental illness strikes one family in ten and there is no means of immunizing anyone against it.

Illinois is doing a good job of ameliorating conditions in its mental hospitals. The new Tinley Park State hospital with its modern facilities, is proof of the progress made in providing treatment for the mentally ill in pleasant, comfortable surroundings.

Requirements, however, still fall short of providing adequate care for all who need it. To remedy the situation, the state of Illinois is asking voters to approve a $248 million bond issue to be used for state university and mental institution construction, and to employ additional trained personnel. The bond issue will appear on the ballot at the Nov. 4 election.

Voters are urged not to leave the ballot on this issue unmarked. Because of constitutional requirements, an unmarked ballot counts as a "no" vote. A majority of the votes cast for the members of the General Assembly is required to pass the bond issue.

The state sponsored program which enables nurses to receive training on a scholarship basis has been very successful. Many young women have been attracted to the profession who otherwise would not be able to afford it. However, according to William E. Skadden, chairman on the bond issue activities in Illinois, who addressed reporters at a press luncheon in the Tinley hospital last Friday, many nurses are lost to the state because of poor working conditions in some of the state's mental institutions. At the Tinley hospital there are two nurses receiving aid in the state program of scholarships.

The State Chamber of Commerce performed a public service by making a survey of the needs for the bond referendum. Their findings state that more construction of mental hospitals is required because of the great number of people crowded into buildings which in some cases have been labeled "unsanitary firetraps." More than half of the buildings are from 50 to 115 years old. Judged by minimum standards of the Illinois Department of Public Health, the institutions are about 42 percent overcrowded, housing 11,000 more mentally ill and 3,000 more mentally deficient persons than they should have.

Some 1,200 children now needing care have been placed on a one to three-year waiting list for admittance to the institution at Dixon and Lincoln.

If voters approve the bond issue, $15 million will be spent at the Tinley hospital, $10 million of which is slated for a children's unit, consisting of a school and activities building, hospital and treatment center, and six residential units.

Other additions that would be made are a diagnostic building, two patient residential buildings, and activities building for patients. The Tinley hospital is receiving patients from other overcrowded institutions and now is almost filled to capacity with 450 patients.

When these additions are completed, it will be necessary to hire the personnel required to operate.

In its survey, the State Chamber, who recommends approval of the $248 million bond issue, states the construction of additional facilities for the mentally ill cannot be delayed. It also points out that because proper safeguards and legislative checks are provided, the building bond issue will not constitute a blank check for unnecessary construction.

The bond issue has many supporters. It has been said: "Human values and human needs are at stake. That gives the greatest justification for support of the bond issue."

Each project earmarked for funds will have to be presented before three groups representing the voters of Illinois. Skadden stated at the press conference. The projects will be presented to the General Assembly in a bill.

When the bond issue came up in the General Assembly, an overwhelming majority of State Representatives and Senators voted that the referendum be held. It is encouraging to note that all our area state legislators voted favorably.

Presented as Senate Bill 119 in the third reading, 44 senators voted for it and eight against it, one because it was not enough money.

A DRILL AND PUSH JOB. A trunk line of the Mokena sewer system that will be fed from the lift station, which is on Wolf road about a block south of the Rock Island tracks, must be tucked under those same tracks. Obviously one can't take the tracks up and dig a trench for the sewer. Some years ago the job would have had to been done thru tun-neling—by hand. Today they have giant augers for such jobs. The one shown here is 21 inches in diameter. The length of the hole under the tracks is 33 feet. After drilling out the hole all one has to do is shove the pipe thru. It isn't advisable to do it by hand, tho, unless one has plenty of manpower. (Marvin Smith photo)

"Good PTA Means Good School"

"To have a good school it is necessary to have a good PTA," said Otis Keeler to a large audience of PTA members last Friday when he addressed the 38th annual conference of Dist. 19, ICPT, in Bremen community high school at Midlothian.

Mr. Keeler, Springfield, has served both the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, in school education, and the state as assistant superintendent of public instruction for more than two decades.

He stated that "many things are put into our schools that should not have been put in," and that "many things are cast away that should have been kept." He advocated that the aims of education be determined before placing methods in schools.

In discussing the aims of education, Keeler listed several, pointing out that "the PTA is the only organization in the world to his knowledge that mentions 'spiritual development'." According to Keeler, the White House conference planned for next year will be devoted to curriculum. In covering the areas of learning, he commented that "a good reader is one who can understand what he reads."

He further explained why everyone should have at least one year of practical mathematics in high school, and that everyone should know some natural science.

In closing, Keeler stated that "we are in PTA work, not for our own benefit, but for what we can do for boys and girls."

Mrs. Fred T. Millward, director of Dist. 19, was re-elected at the conference to serve a second two-year term. She will be installed at the state convention next spring. PTA members attending the conference, obtained renewed inspiration and information at the numerous round table sessions, they declared. These were offered in fifteen of the more important areas of PTA work.

Past district directors at the meeting included Mrs. L. John Bruesch, Oak Lawn, who served from 1942-1943; Mrs. Will Jones, Calumet City, 1951-1955; and Mrs. Edward Pettijohn, Midlothian, 1955-1957.

It was announced that a "Know your Candidates" meeting is scheduled for tomorrow, Oct. 24, 8 to 9 p.m. at the Roosevelt school, 146th street and LaSalle in Dolton. This meeting is sponsored by the Dolton-Riverdale Parent-Teacher council, and is open to the general public.

In a discussion on school views and education, local candidates from both major parties will participate. Those included will be Edward Derwinski and Leland Rayson, candidates for the congress, and Marino Richton and Jack Walker, Anthony Scario and William Freeman, candidates for the general assembly.

ORLAND TOWNSHIP--

(Continued from page 1) we purchased our property, mainly Herman Gee and Fred Yunker. They talked of building a fine residential area. They stressed that they were particular to whom they sold so that the new owners would build and maintain a countryside community of which all would be proud."

In obtaining signatures for the petition which she presented to the board Mrs. Chartist said she was representing the Orland Township Improvement Association.

"We believe that industry is vital to communities," Mrs. Chartist stated, "but we believe, as do the many communities all around Metropolitan Chicago, that it should not be put in residential area."

"In the Orland Park plan there is already a generous amount of land zoned for industry. Constant and vigorous vigilance must be maintained by all citizens to protect our interests."

Others who addressed the board of appeals were officers of the improvement association, Arthur Robert, its president; Lloyd J. Chartist, the secretary and Robert Green, treasurer.

It was stated that Beemsterboer wants some of his property zoned for residential purposes and the only portion he wants classified for light industry is along the Wabash railroad tracks.

Some of the objectors are half a mile and a mile from the property involved in the hearing, it was stated.

Launch Annual Chest Campaign At Frankfort

Because of delay in receiving pledge cards the Joliet-Will County Community Chest solicitors at Frankfort will launch their campaign today, Oct. 23, it was announced by the co-chairmen. The campaign will end next Tuesday, Oct. 28.

The Lions club is in charge of Chest fund solicitations at Frankfort and the co-chairmen are William G. Wilson, club president; Dr. Joseph Petrucci and Harold Reimen. The quota established for the Frankfort community, which includes Green Garden and Lincoln Estates, is $700. Club members who will seek contributions are: Arthur Bauch, Norman Bradley, Burton Breidert, Herbert Folkers, Donald Freeh, Grant Gauthier, Thomas Gunhouse, Lynn Kohlhaugen, A. H. Krusemark and Herbert Lambrecht.

Also Paul Lambrecht, Edward Lauffer, A. D. Massey, Wendell Morrison, Howard Osmus, Orval Schroeder, Ray Shilling, Ralph Show, George Tate and Ray Walsh.

Those directing Chest campaign would like to see Frankfort come in well above its quota as the drive fell short of its over-all goal for the first time since 1942. When the teams made their final reports at Joliet last Monday night the fund was about $23,000 short of the $283,000 goal so the campaign was extended a week.

Those in charge hope that anyone who was not solicited will volunteer a pledge or a contribution.

200 at Luther League Meeting In Tinley Park

The Zion Luther league at Tinley Park was host Sunday to over 200 young people from the Chicago-Indiana Luther League federation.

The program began with opening devotions by the host pastor, the Rev. Randolph F. Hahn, and a welcome by Walter Wille, president of the local league. The inspirational address was given by Pastor Norman Wente of Western Springs, who had served as a student pastor at Zion in 1955. A stewardship film "Reason For Being" was also shown. It portrayed the thought of how we may better serve our Lord.

A banquet was served by the women of Zion church in the parish hall. Tables were decorated harmonizing with the theme of the rally "Sing To The Lord". Sharon Johnson and Dawn Hartwig were in charge of the table and hall decorations.

After the banquet the business meeting was held which was followed by a concert given by the Oak Lawn high school choir under the direction of Ralph Arnold. Ron Rademacher, president of the Chicago-Indiana federation and a member of the choir, led the group in one of the numbers.

Closing devotions were led by student pastor Shoberg of St. Paul Lutheran church, Michigan City. The local League, under the direction of student pastor Paul Scheller, was in charge of the arrangements for the rally. In addition to those mentioned, Kay Swisher, Audrey Nielsen, Fran Swisher, Howard Wehr, Terry Powers and Warren Schluter were in charge of registration. All of the local league members helped serve at the banquet.

Rayson Gives Views on National Problems to Tinley Park Voters

By ANNE RODGER

Altho scheduled to give an hour to the voters of Tinley Park by addressing them and answering questions, Edward J. Derwinski, the Republican candidate for a seat in the United States Congress to represent the 4th Congressional District, could spare only five minutes.

The meeting, held in the village hall last Thursday, was sponsored by the League of Women Voters who two months ago invited Derwinski and his opponent, Leland Rayson, Democrat, of Tinley Park, to share the platform.

The Republican candidate preferred to talk at a meeting in Oak Lawn before a larger audience. Before his speedy departure, he presented his qualifications to Congress on his record in the state legislature and as president of a Savings and Loan company.

Following him, Rayson devoted 50 minutes to presenting his policies on matters in which the League is interested, before leaving to address another meeting in Lansing. His views on education, foreign policy, the reciprocal trade program, and water conservation were presented to the audience by the Democratic candidate, who has been conducting a vigorous campaign thruout the sprawling 4th District.

Education, he stated, is a national concern, and states should be induced to raise their educational standards. He advocates a federal scholarship program and condemned states who advocate state rights, but practice state wrongs. He feels federal aid could be given without federal control.

In answering questions from the audience, he expressed the possibility that education in the United States today is of a mediocre nature. While 10 million people in Russia are studying English, he quoted, only a few thousand students in America are studying Russian.

The foreign aid program needs revision. Rayson feels, and other nations should be asked to help. The United States, he stated, cannot carry the burden much longer.

The tremendous problems in connection with water conservation, with water surplus low thruout the land, is steadily getting worse. Many vacant lands are being filled with homes and the projected industrial development, present many problems.

This problem which is presently being studied nationally by the League of Women Voters, is also receiving study by the corps of army engineers, Rayson advised.

He pointed out the possibility of receiving public works funds for the Calumet region because of the industrial expansion and increase expected, which he quoted at 2million more people and new jobs for 900,000, with the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway and the development of the Port of Chicago.

The problems of sanitation and flooding in the south Cook County area can only be met thru taxation, he explained.

He stated in answer to one question that he would vote against increased foreign aid. More effective aid he feels can be made to the foreign countries in need, by a program of supplying food and not dollars, except on a loan basis.

Rayson's theme of his campaign is that "we should look at the facts as they really are and not as we hope them to be."

He does not believe the union shop should be dispensed with, but where there is dispute he believes it should be settled by the national labor relations board.

Taxes, he said, cannot be lowered at the present time.

Rayson also expressed his views on the farm program, where increased cost of farm goods to the consumers, is not going into the pockets of the farmers.

Besides the adult audience, three members of the Bremen Community High school debating team, came to hear the candidates.

Fire Damages Old Landmark On Francis Road

Fire of undetermined origin broke out in an abandoned farm house, once the home-stand of the Francis family, late Monday afternoon. The house is located on Francis road, about three quarters of a mile east of Cedar rd.

Firemen from Mokena and New Lenox responded to the alarm. They found that the blaze had started in the attic and had spread to one of the rooms on the second floor. The flames were extinguished quickly and fire damage was confined to the second story. There was smoke and water damage, however, to the rest of the house.

Firemen also kept the flames from spreading to a nearby barn which contained a large quantity of hay and feed and equipment for four riding horses owned by Sheldon Hauck, New Lenox business man.

Mr. Hauck owns the property now and it was men who are building a home nearby who saw smoke coming out of the old house. James Horras, who is directing the building, ran to a telephone and turned in the alarm. The fire broke out again an hour later, and after it was extinguished a fireman was left on guard all night.

The old Francis home is a landmark in the area. It was built by a man named Paige or Page around the Civil War period. Later it was purchased by Charles Francis. In time it became the home of one of the sons the late Fred Francis, New Lenox supervisor and banker and one of the pioneers in 4H work in Will county.

Hauck purchased the property from the Fred Francis estate and until about a month ago the house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Triem. It is Hauck's intention to remove the house and build a home there.

Worth Youth Is Found Guilty Of Automobile Theft

William Ritchey, 18, of Worth, who was arrested in Tinley Park last month by reserve police officer, David DeVault, was found guilty in Criminal court Tuesday morning of car theft. He will be sentenced in court Nov. 14.

The police officer chased Ritchey because of a misdemeanor of throwing something from a moving vehicle. In his attempt to elude the police, Ritchey lost control of the car, hitting a stop sign at 174th st. and Oak Park ave. With him was a 15-year old youth who was released to his parents.

Investigation revealed the automobile Ritchey was driving had been stolen from the Navajo Country club, and that he was on 18 months' probation from the state of Florida.

Mrs. Katharine Ihlenfeld and Mrs. Marcus Monson accompanied the group when they visited the Art Institute the following day. As this evening meeting was the Halloween party, all girls were in costume and thoroughly enjoyed the fun capers connected with the holiday. Karen Mutch will have the next meeting Nov. 14.

Church Circle Tours Woman's Prison in Dwight

The Friendly circle of St. John's United church toured the women's prison at Dwight, Tuesday. The trip was made by bus, leaving the church at 10:30 a.m., and home by 5 p.m. There were 26 women in the group who made the interesting and informative trip. They visited the many buildings; cottages where the inmates live in small groups with a house mother, laundry and sewing departments, etc. There are 307 inmates there which seemed to be mostly colored women.

The Mokena fire department answered a fire call last Saturday when a grass fire was burning briskly in the Woodland circle.

Tuesday afternoon they answered another call when a grass fire in the meadow on the Clarence Lauffer's farm, 191st st., was making rapid headway.

The fire started on the Rock Island railroad tracks and quickly spread south into the Lauffer field. By the rapid headway the fire was making, it would not been very long until it reached the soy bean field of William Abbe and the corn field of Elmer Benson, adjoining farms.

A fire of like manner broke out in the hay field Oct. 2 on the other farm belonging to Clarence Lauffer which is located about one mile west of Tinley Park and also along the railroad tracks. It is about two miles from his farm at Mokena.

Mr. Lauffer thinks it could have started from a burning fuse thrown out from a passing train. The grass on the railroad tracks has been cut but Mr. Lauffer thinks there is a possibility of the fuses falling wide of the tracks.

Last Saturday morning the owners of two mail boxes located on the corner of 115th st. and Hamilt road, just west of Mokena, discovered they had been ripped from the post on which they were secured, and hanging by a nail. The boxes belong to Gustave Landahl and Joseph Smie. The boxes were in proper condition Friday late afternoon, and has the appearance that they were detached by force.

A gathering of 24 relatives met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bruce, Front st., last Sunday as a surprise for her mother, Mrs. Louise Schaffner of Chicago and her 75th birthday. A sumptuous dinner was served. Visiting with each other was the past time for the afternoon. The honored guest received many lovely gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Morris, 194th st., has returned from a motor trip to Louisville, Ky., where they visited their son, Cpl. Raymond Morris and his bride whom they had not seen. The latter were married in August, Cpl. Morris has been stationed at Ft. Knox and is being transferred to Carlyle, Pa. Mrs. Kate Bumhagen of Chicago spent several days last week in the home of her cousin, Henry Shevlin and wife.

Delbert Smiel has been transferred to the Sonora Electronic Organ company in Chicago where he is supervisor in the electronic division. He and his wife and son moved last Saturday to a house located at 116th st. and Francis road. He had the misfortune when first working at his new location, to have his car stolen, but thru insurance adjustment now has another car.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Fulton and family were dinner guests Tuesday evening of her parents, the Henry Shevlin.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Madonia, 194th st., was christened last Sunday afternoon in St. Mary's Catholic church with the Rev. Fr. Koon, officiating. The name of Darlene Marie was given. Sponsors were Cpl. and Mrs. Raymond Morris of Ft. Knox, Ky.

Cecil Hale, of 191st, is ill at his home suffering from a fungus infection on his hands and feet.

League to Hold Progressive Dinner Saturday

The Christ Walther League of Orland Park will have a Halloween progressive dinner, Saturday, Oct. 25. They will meet at the church on 143rd and West ave. The first course will be served at 6:15 p.m., and from thereon the schedule will be as follows:

First course, Wayne Biedermann, 7911 Redondo Lane, Laguna Woods; second course, Gerry Greenhoe, 159th st. and 118th; third course, Marie Meier, 139th st. and Wolf rd.; fourth course, Barbara Schmadede, 142nd and Union ave.; fifth course, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, 14531 So. Ridge ave., Orland Park, and sixth course, Don Richter, 8241 Hillcrest dr., Palos Highlands.

Following the sixth course a scavenger hunt will take place. Immediately thereafter there will be a social hour of dancing and games, at Don Richter's house. Here the prizes will be awarded for the best costumes and also for the scavenger hunt.

The league is presently taking orders for fruit cakes in two pound lithographed tins to be delivered before Nov. 22. Orders may be placed with Mrs. George Johnson by calling Fieldbrook 9-0041.

Kids to Collect For UNICEF on Halloween Calls

By MRS. EMIL WILLE
Frankfort 3161

Church and school leaders are soliciting the cooperation of parents and children in collecting funds for the United Nations International Children's Emergency fund. Proper containers and identification will be available to the children thru the schools before Halloween.

When children call for treats and present the properly marked container for UNICEF, residents are asked to contribute to the worthy cause.

The money collected is used to purchase powdered milk and medical supplies to carry on the fight against disease that threatens children in foreign lands besides America.

The Auxiliary police are planning a Halloween party for the children in the community. The German Shepherd Dog Training club of Chicago will present an obedience exhibition of dogs. There will be prizes for the two best costumed children, also a hula hoop contest with prizes. The party will start at 8 pm. There will be refreshments. Plans for the party were discussed at the meeting of the Auxiliary Sunday.

The police are patrolling the area because of recent reports of vandalism.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Spratt on the death of his father, Thomas J. Spratt of Chicago. He was 72 years old.

Also to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Janard on the death of his father, Frank Janard Sr. of South Chicago. He was 67 years old and had been ill for some time.

Mrs. Donald Scates was hostess at a small farewell party in her home Friday evening for Johnnie Zemke. Present were John Arendt, Billy Madison, George Schafer, Donald Scates, Janet Tyler and Jeanne Boleman.

Will County GOP Women to Hold Reception in Joliet Tuesday Night

As the Republican candidates in Will County intensify their campaign for the Nov. 4 general election, they are pointing to their past records as public officials and stressing their qualifications for their respective offices.

In their tours about the county, they stress that integrity and efficiency have been and will continue to be the keynote of their administrations; they are pledging to be ever on the alert for ways and means of better serving the public.

Will county voters will be given further opportunity to meet with the local, state and district Republican candidates at two, county-wide meetings to be held in the closing days of the campaign. Tomorrow night, Oct. 24, the John Ericsson League of Will county is planning a smorgasbord and reception at the Woodruff hotel at 8 o'clock in the evening; an open house is being planned Tuesday, Oct. 28 from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. also at the Woodruff. The Will County Republican Women's club headed by Mrs. Ralph Murphy, is arranging the details for the informal session. "Come and visit with the office seekers" is the club's invitation.

The five county candidates seeking to be returned to office contend their records of the past entitle them to another term. They are: County Judge John Cowing, Probate Judge Stewart C. Hutchison, County Clerk Joseph H. Hartley, Probate Clerk E. B. Workman and County Superintendent of Schools Verne E. Crackel.

Another county candidate, Sheriff Roy C. Doerfler, aspires to the treasurer's post on the basis of his record while serving as the county's law enforcement officer.

The GOP sheriff's nominee, Gilbert A. Knater, a one-time deputy sheriff, points to his 25 years in state police work, as ably qualifying him for the post he seeks.

Without opposition, both Warren L. Wood of Plainfield, and Louis F. Bottino of Lockport, are assured of being returned to their legislative posts in the Illinois House of Representatives.

Senator Lottie Holman O'Neill of Downers Grove, has been serving the 41st district composed of Will and DuPage counties as senator for eight years and was in the House of Representatives for nine terms. On the basis of her familiarity with legislative procedures, she is license to operate a package store on Wolf road. The board made answer that it was waiting for a report from Village Attorney Raymond Hoolehan on the legal aspects of the case.

There are three taverns operating in Mokena now and whether a package store would be one too many outlets is a question that has caused the board to pause. It was pointed out, however, that it is possible that a package store could be licensed in the same neighborhood by the county, on a location outside the village.

The village board has adopted a resolution calling for work to proceed on the master plan for Mokena and Frankfort.

League of Women Voters Adopt "Taxes" as Local Agenda Item

The Voter's service committee of the Tinley Park League of Women Voters are in charge of unit meetings this month.

This afternoon, at 1 p.m., a unit meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Gloria Clement, 6554 Hubbard Lane. Another such meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Claire McLain, 17950 Ridgeland ave. on Monday.

The next board meeting of the League will be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 5, in Mrs. Clement's home.

A general membership meeting is planned for Nov. 19, when school finance will be the topic of discussion.

The league judicial reform chairman, Mary Lois Osburn, arranged for the showing of a film on the blue ballot judicial amendment at October meetings of local civic groups. Tonight it is being shown at the Home Bureau.

The league for its first local agenda item has chosen "Study and Possible Action on Assessments and Taxation," which will be discussed at unit meetings.

For discussion and study in the near future will be evaluation of the U. S. foreign policy. At their convention last April, the League voted for a foreign policy item which includes "Continued Support of the United Nations system." Oct. 24 is U.N. Day.

The Tinley Park League of Women Voters has pocket reference books on the United Nations which may be purchased at unit meetings.

Don C. Halls Celebrate Golden Wedding in Mississippi Home

A golden wedding celebration of interest to many friends in this locality is that of Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Hall, Jr. which was celebrated in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Scott in Mississippi City, Sunday, Oct. 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall have lived in Mokena for many years and their children attended public school and were also graduated from the Joliet Township high school. The Halls have a home on Bonness ave., where they live most every summer when coming from their Mississippi home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall were members of the Hall Theatrical company which was operated by his parents, the late Col. and Mrs. Don C. Hall and later, when the cost of transporting their railroad car home from city to city became impractical, at the close of World War I they carried on their show, moving from engagement to engagement by truck. They wintered in Mokena and later established their winter home in Mississippi City. Col. and Mrs. Hall died in Mokena a few years ago.

Mr. Hall was a member of the William Martin VFW Post while living in Mokena and Mrs. Hall, a member of the Post's auxiliary.

Mrs. Scott had covered the serving table with a gold cloth on which were lighted ivory candles in gold candlesticks. A three tiered anniversary cake centered the table. It was decorated with a miniature stairway representing the climb to gether of the many steps to the 50th year marked at the top.

There were many friends who called during the open house which followed the family dinner.

Mrs. Hall was becomingly attired in an afternoon frock of gray and amber accented with rhinestones. Her corsage was of white roses and her only jewelry was an antique locket given to her by her husband shortly at the time of their marriage.

Family members present at the dinner and open house were the couple's three children and their families; Mr. and Mrs. Don Carlos Hall III, New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Lester W. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Cullotta, Chicago; their grandchildren, Jacquelyn Richard, Daniel and Gilbert Scott, Mississippi City; Mrs. Nick Bliss, Charles Voight, Ann and Dorothy Cullotta, of Chicago; Mrs. Robert Parrish, Eugene, Ore. and Lt. Don C. Hall, IV, Spencer Air Base, Moultrie, Ga.

There are five great grandchildren, Danny and Sue Ellen Parrish, Deno and Tony Bliss and Cynthia Hall.

Tinley Gardeners to Sponsor Christmas Decoration Contest

Color is their business, one might say of members of the Tinley Park Garden club. They spend all spring and summer in bringing color and beauty to their own gardens so it was with considerable pleasure that they had the opportunity last Thursday to view the vivid coloring of Nature's garden, the autumnal landscape.

Opportunity to see the colorful countryside was had when the club members traveled from Tinley to Mokena, where their regular meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Edna Clark.

Lovely leaflets, setting for the year's program of the club, were presented to the members by Mrs. Robert Memhard. Mrs. Trudie Swisher gave a report on philanthropic activities of the group. A bag of neckties, stockings, cards, three pocketbooks and 1,084 magazines were delivered to the Oak Forest infirmary last week.

The club plans to sponsor an out-door Christmas decoration contest that will be open to the public. Mrs. Walter Jawadzki has been named as chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Panozzo. Details will be announced later.

Highlights on last Thursday's program included a reading, "How Does Nature Scatter Seeds?", and projection of slides of the Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen estate, Hazelwood, at Dixon, Ill.

NOW, at a new home heating rate

THE LUXURY OF ELECTRIC HEATING

For the new-home buyer who wants the very finest—sootless, dustless, odorless heat. Uses no fuel, needs no chimney!

If you are like most people, you may think electric heating is a little like having a yacht, nice if you can afford it.

Modern electric heating does cost a few dollars more, but it is well within the reach of most new-home buyers, and far superior to old-fashioned heating methods.

Because here—for the first time—is a heating system that's just as safe and clean as electric light! You see, it uses no fuel. There's nothing to burn, no open flame. With nothing burning, there's no smoke or soot to create dirt. And with new electric heating, you'll enjoy a wonderful new peace of mind. There's nothing to escape, drip, leak, smell or boil over!

Radiant Electric Heating—a miracle of comfort
Radiant Electric Heating is absolutely silent—with no moving parts, no furnace noise. It produces a deep-down penetrating warmth that feels just like the sun. And it's easily controlled (as easy as tuning your radio) by separate thermostats located in each room. You can keep the bathroom at 80° for bathing comfort, keep the living room at 72° for lounging comfort, keep the bedrooms at an even 65° for perfect sleeping comfort. And you can add summer air conditioning during construction or any other time you choose.

Economical to buy, install, maintain, use
Radiant Electric Heating is available in various forms. For example, it can be a compact baseboard installed along the base of exterior walls. It can be embedded in the floor or the ceiling. Or it can consist of radiant glass panels, installed in the walls. But in the majority of cases, a Radiant Electric Heating system will cost less to install than conventional flame-type systems.

Of course, proper insulation and storm doors and windows are a necessary part of any Electrically Heated Home (electric heating is not recommended for a home without them). But you need no chimney, no hot water pipes or radiators, no furnace, no fuel storage space. Radiant Electric Heating takes no usable floor space. And there's nothing to adjust, nothing to keep clean. Upkeep is just a fraction of what you'd pay to keep a conventional heating system in operation.

The All-electric Heat Pump—for year-round air conditioning

If you want both electric heating and air conditioning in one unit, you'll choose the new Heat Pump that both heats and cools electrically. With this all-electric system, the air in your home is warmed or cooled to the exact temperature you select, filtered clean, gently and quietly circulated to every room. The Heat Pump is a compact unit that can be installed in the basement or crawl space. Costs no more than you'd pay for conventional heating with air conditioning added. And just as with Radiant Electric Heating, there are no flames, no fumes—nothing to disturb your absolute peace of mind.

The new electric heating rate

On July 28th, 1953, the Illinois Commerce Commission authorized Commonwealth Edison and Public Service Company to put into effect a new electric heating rate that cut the cost of heating with electricity by about 30%. This new rate, together with new developments in heating equipment and better standards of home insulation, puts electric heating well within the means of most new-home buyers. As a result, new electric heating has already been specified for more than 900 Chicagoland area homes and apartments.

Operating costs of electric heating obviously will vary according to the size and type of home and family living habits. Commonwealth Edison and Public Service Company, or your home builder, will be glad to provide electric heating estimates based on the specifications of the home you plan to build or buy.

Remember, electric heating is available now! There's no waiting list and no permits are needed! So if a new home is on the horizon for you, look for the modern miracle of electric heating. You'll find it in the finest new homes available today!

For more information about New Electric Heating, phone your nearest Commonwealth Edison or Public Service office

There's Nothing For Nothing

Too few people have heard of the seagulls of St. Augustine, Fla., and the lesson they teach.

According to the magazine, Early American, the St. Augustine gulls are "starving to death in the midst of plenty, because they have forgotten how to fish."

The gulls are victims of a welfare state. They wanted security without working for it. And for a time they had it. That was while the local shrimp fleet made St. Augustine its headquarters.

When the boats unload their cargoes all of the catch is not marketable. In fact there is a lot of what we humans consider waste but it was bread and butter and all the trimmings for the gulls.

For the gulls who had ambitions to be governors, senators, congressmen or the heads of prime, fat bureaus, this was a golden opportunity.

"Look," they probably said, whenever they got a few groups of gulls together, "You put me in office and you won't have to do any more hard work. Flying miles out to sea and then diving all day to get enough to eat? Ha! All you have to do is just go offshore where the shrimp boats lay and eat all you want without ever wetting your heads. And look! it's all free!"

The gulls listened and were lost. The something-for-nothing gimmick was too much to resist. They paddled, waddled or flopped their way to the rich feeding grounds and gorged. In a couple of hours they could get more to eat than they formerly could after fishing all day. And they had so much time to devote to hobbies. The hobbies of most ran to sleeping and eating and they could give full rein to them.

There were a few gulls who preferred the old ways. They continued to circle out to sea and get their vittles the hard way, despite the criticism of their fellow gulls, who called them reactionaries and accused them of horse and buggy thinking.

Most of the gulls became so lazy that they not only gave up fishing themselves but they didn't bother to teach their offspring the technique of the art. The only thing they taught their offspring was to sit on the piling at the wharf and break out into "The Shrimp Boats are Coming" when they sighted the fleet.

It was a wonderful life while it lasted but now the lush, boom times are gone. They went with the shrimp boats. The fleet has moved from St. Augustine to Key West.

A few of the birds, according to the Early American, had sufficient intuition to follow the fleet. The reactionaries, of course, still knew how to fish so they are all right. They offered to show the others how to do it but they refused, and rather indignantly too. Do all that work for a few fish? Don't be silly!

The result, according to the magazine, is that most of the gulls just sit and are starving to death because no one will bring them shrimp, while out in the Gulf is plenty of food for the taking.

a politically inspired plan to thrust the judicial system more than ever into partisan politics was substituted. This plan had three main parts. (1) It left the partisan method of electing judges intact. (2) It further subjects the judges to the vagaries of the legislators by giving the legislature the power to determine terms of office. (3) It also makes political patronage dispensers of the circuit court judges by giving them the power to appoint numerous magistrates. Thus utterly defeating the high ideal of judicial reform.

The action of the legislature in approving this amendment brought this reaction from the proponents of judicial reform: Barnabas F. Sears, chairman of the joint committee of the Illinois State and Chicago Bar Associations, said on May 24, 1957, "The guts of the Bar Association proposal was in selection and tenure. Without that all you'll have is a politically dominated court system with a fine new facade." Henry Pope Jr., chairman of the Citizens Committee for Judicial Reform, said on the same day, "The people do not want a so-called reform that continues to hold judges in political bondage." It should be made very clear that these statements came from men who had worked long and diligently to secure true judicial reform for the people of the state of Illinois only to see their efforts go for naught.

So now we see that the proposed amendment is not a reform amendment at all. It is a gutless specter of the high principled Bar Association proposal; not at all the amendment the people had been led to expect and which had been approved by many groups interested in better government (P.T.A. etc.) Rather than a true judicial reform amendment the voters are offered a political device aimed at more political domination of the courts. For this reason the Amendment should not be approved by the voters on Nov. 4th. Vote NO on the blue ballot.

Yours truly,
Walter C. Dohl Jr.,
Police Magistrate
Posen, Ill.

ON PLANNING

Dear Editor:
Before long plans will be drawn up for the village of Mokena and the area within one and one-half miles of its boundaries. This program comprises the use of a proposed land use map, which the village of Mokena is spending a great amount of money for. As a taxpayer in this area I am interested in whether this plan arises from the general wishes of the people in this area or if this is the idea of just a few? I have noticed that there have been no other articles other than those of the planning commission in your newspaper. Is every citizen in Mokena in accord with this sort of planning, or are there some who believe like our neighboring town that we have enough men capable to plan for us, who would have a real honest to goodness interest in our town, something that outsiders cannot offer us. The village could then save this money and put it toward re-paving the streets.

Good planning is the responsibility of the public officials elected to administer the affairs of the village. This is a recognized fact. It is also a fact that the voters have a responsibility in seeing that village administrators carry out their wishes. Is it the wish of the people in this area to have industry surrounding them? It used to be that people moved out into areas of this kind to get away from the fust and muck of industrial city life. Has this concept changed or are there still those who look forward to quitting time when they can return home to a clean and peaceful residential area, not cluttered with industrial confusion.

The theory that taxes will be reduced because of industrial growth remains a highly debatable question due to the fact that the increased population, because of industry, brings about a need for more school facilities, larger police and fire protection forces, more services in the form of water and sewerage and many others. The question of whether the industry taxes will offset the added expense is one that is hard to answer. In Chicago it surely didn't.

For this reason I am wondering whether the people concerned with planning have

What is the No. 1 problem in the please pardon the expression — civilized world today?

It is control of space—at-oms — bad breath—racial differences — what to buy for Christmas — juvenile delinquency — remembering birthdays and anniversaries—Communism — do-gooder organizations?

Maybe one or some of these will serve to answer the question, but according to my observation the No. 1 answer to the No. 1 problem is—parking.

Not only where but how.

Drivers' schools or driving instructors can take care of you on the how end but the where is something else yet.

In collaboration with my wife, who is especially qualified for task thru the fact that she does not drive, I am giving some thought to establishing a correspondence course on "How to Park a Car in 1,000 Easy Lessons."

We recommend that you learn how to park before getting too involved in the question of where.

If you happen to be a different person, a shy sort of blighter with a sensitive soul and a desire to show consideration to the rights and feelings of others then you should enroll in our 2,000 lesson course. The first thousand will be needed to toughen the old fiber and learn how to take it as well as dish it out.

Perhaps it should be explained that when we talk of parking we are concerned with the parallel, on-street type when the problem is to get your car sandwiched in between two vehicles already parked.

Such spaces are becoming increasingly scarce in most communities today and the competition for them is keen. One cannot stand on ceremony once the space is spotted. Then it is every person for himself—or herself as the case may be—and heaven help the timid.

Of course, every space is not usable. The car in front may be backed too far in it or the car behind is pulled up too much so unless you are piloting one of those little foreign jobs, a scooter or a motorcycle, you are out of luck and must continue the search.

It has often occurred to me that if someone ever starts giving out prizes to motorists for discourtesy and disregard for others, the drivers who encroach upon another parking space should rate high.

Assuming the space is right, however, the trick is save it for yourself. The necessary preliminaries are more important than the actual maneuvers required to bring the car to anchor.

We will suppose that traffic is heavy. This calls for tricky driving and being alert at all times. Crowding and blocking are permissible but one must be prepared to take a violent tirade from the driver and respond in kind. Unless, of course, the tirade is too big. In that case just disregard him, hum a little tune and appear to be fully occupied with sizing up the parking space.

You can also expect sizzling words from occupants of cars far back along the line who find themselves trapped by your maneuver. They don't want to park. At least not there. They want to go on a few blocks closer to their destination where they in turn will become blockers.

It's a strange thing how indignant one gets when blocked when the other fellow wants to park and how indignant one gets when others get indignant because he wants to park.

There are various blocks one may use in staking claim to a parking space—the sealer, the half-sealer and the open-face or floating block, to name a few.

The sealer is the surest but requires nice timing. As the name indicates this maneuver is accomplished by halting one's car alongside the parking place so that it is sealed in completely, front and rear. Once anchored here you can wait until a break in traffic permits you to pull ahead and then start backing into the opening. You probably will get cursed at and glared at by persons who want to park or pass but pay no attention. Wait 'em out and success is yours.

With the half-sealer you pull up to block about half of the parking space. This will work most of the time but you must remain alert and be ready to move forward if a driver in one of those little cars doesn't cut in front, slam on the brakes and then back swiftly into the opening you have left. This is very exasperating.

Sporting drivers—the kind of men who hunt high flying geese with a rifle using .22 shorts—are the type that use the open-space or floating block. This calls for pulling up ahead of the space in the same position one takes preparatory to backing in.

But he has to be fast. Otherwise an opponent may throw a sealer or half-sealer block or some woman driver comes zooming up and attempts to park while moving forward. She doesn't make it on the first pass, of course, but she has the space filled and the rear of her car projects out enough in the stream of traffic to make it go around. Thus, she is in a position to wait until the cars thin out so she can back out, pull forward, and back in.

Or else she just leaves it the way it was and goes shopping.

Hijacking a parking space is recommended for any woman driver who may be low in spirit. The outraged screams from the male victim and the dirty looks given by those caught in the traffic snarl engendered by her maneuver, brings sunshine into her life again. It's a better picker-upper than even a new hat or a new dress.

And now that you have the rudiments of how to park the question of where crops up again.

Residential streets and isolated country roads are recommended.

Then walk to town.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:
Many people are confused by arguments, both pro and con, regarding the judicial amendment. Before deciding whether the amendment serves the cause of judicial reform or not perhaps it would be good to consider the background of judicial reform and the proposed amendment itself.

The movement for judicial reform in Illinois is not new. At least as far back as the 1953 session of the general assembly the need for judicial reform was declared by the Illinois Bar Association, the Chicago Bar Association, and other interested groups and individuals. Their suggestions took the form of a proposed amendment to the judicial article of the constitution. This proposal did not reach the floor of the assembly either in 1953 or in 1955. In 1957, however, the proposal was again submitted and was successfully introduced onto the floor of the legislature.

The basic principle of the amendment, as originally conceived, was removal of the judicial system from politics. This principle was spelled out in detail by the joint committee of the bar associations in a pamphlet published Sept. 15, 1956. In this pamphlet the committee said, "A sound judicial system must be as independent of the pressures of political action as is humanly possible." This is a high ideal indeed and worthy of support. Subsequent events, however, destroyed this ideal.

After the proposed amendment had been introduced onto the floor of the legislature the heart and soul of judicial reform—removal of the judicial system from politics—was cut out of the proposed amendment. In its place

Win Over Oaks Will Give Rich Title

Rockets Blast Bremen 27 to 13 In Quest for Third Championship

A victory over Oak Lawn Saturday will give the Rich Rockets its third football championship since the Southwest Suburban conference was established six years ago.

A 27 to 13 win over Bremen last Friday put the Rockets on top of the league standings with five victories and no defeats.

Oak Lawn will invade Rich Saturday and the Rockets need this game for an undisputed claim to the title. Oak Lawn has won one game, tied one and lost two in conference play to date and is working now to upset the Rich apple cart.

Even tho defeated Saturday the Rockets would be assured of a tie with Bremen for the title and could still win it if Bremen should lose to Sandburg Nov. 1.

The Rockets don't want to go thru with all that sort of thing and hope to wind up the title quest Saturday.

The Southwest conference was started in 1953. Rich won the football championship in 1954 and 1957 and Reavis, Oak Lawn and Bremen have each won it once.

The Bremen-Rich game at Bremen field last Friday was a hard fought game. Both teams entered the contest with clear records of four wins and no defeats in conference competition.

The Rockets were without the services of Lynn Mautz—on the bench with a broken wrist—but Messers, Corky Hughes and Lance Chilton were cooking with gas and each accounted for a pair of touchdowns.

That Bremen was able to remain in contention, observers agree, was due to the labors of Denny Tattum. The Rich defense had managed to hold their foes in the four previous games to an average 56 yards a game. But they did not have Mr. Tattum to contend with and that made a big difference. Tattum, who tips the scale at 185 pounds, carried the ball a total of 21 times against Rich and picked up 106 yards.

Oldtimers will remember Five Yard McCarthy, Chicago university's famous fullback who seldom failed to pick up needed yardage. Tattum performs along similar lines. He seldom gets away for a long jaunt but brother how he drives.

He was rambling Friday, however, returning three kicks for 69 yards, flipped a 23-yard pass to Bob Gifford and scored both of Bremen's touchdowns.

The Braves had nine first downs to 10 for the Rockets but accounted for only 173 yards while Rich rolled up 350, thanks to the running of Hughes and Chilton. Hughes made the first touchdown for the victors on a reverse from which he broke away for a 69-yard sprint.

Bremen scored in the second quarter to make the count 7 to 6. Richie Nelson picked up 13 yards. Tattum went for 59. The Braves worked the ball down to the one from where Tattum went over on a fourth down smash. Rich bounced back immediately. Don Kramer packed the mail most of the distance and Hughes carried it over from six yards out. The boot for extra point was off and at half time the score stood Rich 13, Bremen 6.

In the third period Chilton shook loose from the 24 to score and a few minutes later, with some beautiful blocking he went 70 yards to hit paydirt. That left the score at 27 to 6. Just before the frame ended Tattum plowed over from the five and John Mann-annon spun thru for the extra point to make the tally 27 to 13—where it remained.

South Suburban Loop Changes May Effect SW

SCENES FROM RICH-BREMEN game at Bremen field last Friday. Top photo shows Tom Johnson (No. 70) of the Rockets attempting to knife his way thru the Braves line. The lad trying to open up a hole is Mark Everett, No. 82. Rich started some runs that went too far, as far as Bremen was concerned, but this time Johnson was cut down after a gain of about two yards. The top picture shows Denny Tattum, Bremen's hard-hitting fullback, setting out on what was to be a 50-yard canter, going from his own 40 to the Rockets 10 yard stripe. Two plays later he was over for a touchdown. The Rich player trying to hold on to a Tattum foot is Tom Johnson while coming in with the intention of tackling the Thru Train from Bremen is Corky Hughes, who is quite a speedster. Tattum jerked loose from Johnson, stiffarmed Hughes and went on until brought down from behind. For Bremen fans Rich made too many touchdowns—four—to triumph 27 to 13. (Marvin Smith photo)

Biddy Basketball Tryouts Set For 12:30 Saturday

The Biddy basketball tryouts will be held Saturday, Oct. 25, in the Palos Village hall, beginning at 12:30 o'clock.

All boys in the Palos-Orland area between the ages of 9 and 12 are eligible. Fathers or men who are interested and have a knowledge of basketball are needed as coaches and instructors.

This is a part of the YMCA program for the Palos-Orland area.

Baton twirling classes are proving successful. It was reported, and there are still some openings. Persons interested may get information by calling George Shriver at Gibson 8-3888.

There has been talk for the past year of possible changes in conference memberships. It is just now beginning to jell with the announcement that Joliet high school has dropped out of the Big Eight conference and will become a member of the South Suburban loop, effective in 1960.

Thornton Fractional and Leyden will drop out of the South Suburban and Kankakee wants to do so at the first opportunity. It was also believed that Lockport and Argo will sever connections with the South Suburban, in time.

A new Thornton high school—Thornton East—will become a member of South Suburban.

Joliet, a charter member of the Big Seven conference—since become the Big Eight—gave travel time and expense as the reason for its switch. The expense part shouldn't bother because Joliet is loaded but it does have a lot of miles to cover, 130 to Freeport, 90 to Rockford, whereas in the South Suburban the longest trek will be about 35 miles.

Sandburg Harriers Win Crown In Southwest Suburban League

By RANDY JOHNSON

Fresh from capturing the Southwest Suburban cross country championship, Carl Sandburg High school's harriers are pointing for a good showing in the IHSA district meet at Lyons on Saturday, Oct. 25.

An undefeated dual meet season against Conference schools preceded the Eagle's winning performance at Evergreen Park last week. Reed Williams took individual honors with a 10:09 performance.

Sandburg's 32 points was 22 points ahead of Reavis in second place with 54 marks. Rich followed in the scoring with 85. Evergreen with 89. Oak Lawn totaled 124 and Lincoln-Way finished with 142 points.

Following behind Williams for the winning Sandburg team were Tony Kanevsky in fourth, Glen Stephens in sixth, Ed Lundin and Joe Pierce in the ten and eleven spots.

Bill Pfeiffer and Bob Agnew also finished in the top 25 with 18th and 21st spots, respectively.

Oak Lawn's Frogue took second place honors and Rip-skis of Evergreen Park was third. Second place Reavis placed Zak, Van Doren and French in the seven, eight and nine spots.

The rapid growth of Northern Illinois university is evident from enrollment figures. There were 2,000 students in 1951. The total jumped to 4,746 in 1957. This year's total of 5,647 reflects a 19% increase over last year.

Eagles Come From Behind to Tie Oaks 19-19

Coming from behind once again the Sandburg Eagles gained a 19-19 tie with the Oak Lawn varsity gridders last week-end.

It was the Spartans homecoming game and they wanted a win badly but couldn't quite make it.

It was a thrilling game despite the end results. Head Coach Joe Devine, of the Eagles, was a bit disappointed that his charges couldn't squeeze out an extra point.

Sandburg has lost two games by a point and Eagle followers were hoping that percentage would break in their favor in the Oak Lawn tilt.

The Eagles have marvelous spirit despite the figures in the won and lost column and will keep on driving. Sandburg will be host to Evergreen Park this Saturday afternoon.

The Evergreens scored a win over Reavis last week-end. A victory over the Evergreens Saturday will put Sandburg in third place in the conference standings. Rich now has the undisputed lead and has but one more league game to play against Oak Lawn. Bremen is second.

In the Frash-Soph division Sandburg's entry, which is coached by Henry Meier, continued its triumphal tour of the league with a 26-13 win over Oak Lawn. This leaves Sandburg on top of the frash-soph heap with four victories and no defeats. Reavis is in second place with three wins as against one loss.

from 70 percent to 90 percent last week, by the federal reserve board. This means that brokers must require that ities held as collateral in these accounts and the amount borrowed could not exceed 10 per cent.

This balance between customers' own funds and the sum borrowed, must retain this relation on all purchases of securities after issuance of this regulation.

The previous margin regulations remain in effect for that portion of the account added after margin change rules. The new rule applies the moment the customer sells any previously held securities and replaces those which were in the account previously.

The stock market did react downward early in the day of the announcement of change, but the next day the market recovered and moved to higher levels. It is difficult to understand why the federal reserve board raised the margin requirement as their previous experience in this regard, was that such a raise had almost no effect on the market trading volume or prices except momentarily. This lack of effect could be explained by two reasons:

(1) Margin requirements were so high that customer was putting up very nearly the total value in any case and a little more would hardly be an influencing factor in decisions to buy or sell securities.

(2) The fact that these margin requirements were raised, of itself was further proof to investors that the federal reserve board believes inflationary pressures are present currently.

The news columns made much of this margin change and a large segment of the population was impressed. However, it must be remembered that a comparatively small portion of the populace are actually investors directly and opinion or reaction of the non-investors has little effect on the market. The type and volume of buying following the break in prices, was such that it was obvious large buyers had entered the market. These were likely institutional buyers following instructions of their professional investment managers. The professional is seldom impressed with headlines or published statements other than those they can check for accuracy and likelihood.

In 1950, the Federal Reserve Bank's own employee pension fund, broke a ruling of long standing in that it purchased common stocks with a portion of the funds in its care. The fund at the close of 1951 had total assets of $3,876,000 as contrasted with $19,319,000 at the close of 1957.

Following shows contrast in investment policy of this fund:

	1951 % of total	1957 % of total
U. S. Govt. Securities	31.6	10.5
Corporate Bonds	45.4	53.8
Common Stocks	11.8	24.7

Commenting on this, C. Norman Stabler of the New York Herald Tribune, pointed out that greater respectability accorded common stocks, had influenced this change. He also said, "colleges and other tax exempt institutions, which years ago confined their endowments to top-grade bonds and first mortgages, are now roughly 50 per cent in common stocks with many at 60 to 80 per cent."

National Tea Co. Reports Increase In Sales in 1958

National Tea Co., has announced continued increased sales for the last four week operating period, and a total increase in excess of $86 million for the company's first three quarters of 1958 as compared with the same reporting period of last year.

Sales for the four weeks ending Oct. 4, 1958 totaled $60,744,889, which was an increase of $5,928,802, resulting in a gain of 10.81 per cent over the same four week period of 1957, and an all time high for any four week operating period on record.

The company's consolidated sales for the three quarters, forty weeks of the year to date thru Oct. 4, totaled $588,210,289 as compared to sales of $502,141,426 for the corresponding three quarters of 1957, which gives the Chicago based food chain a total increase of $86,068,863 in sales and a gain for the year to date of 17.14 per cent, which is a new record high for any comparable three quarters of operations in the company's 59 year history.

At the close of business Oct. 4, National was operating a total of 930 stores as compared with 866 stores in operation at the same time a year ago. Scoreboard for store openings and expansion for the year thus far shows that National has opened 71 new super markets and gained an additional 28 stores through acquisition. At the time of this report 107 new stores were under lease for future opening.

This TOO is Texas Eastern ...

Ready for Winter with 105 billion cubic feet of gas
in underground storage

When the icy blasts of winter sweep across the country, demands for fuel to heat homes and offices call for deliveries of extremely large volumes of natural gas.

Texas Eastern is ready and able to satisfy these demands through use of one of the world's largest underground storage reservoirs for natural gas — Oakford Storage Pool in southwestern Pennsylvania. This pool was developed jointly with another gas company and one-half of its capacity is available for use by each company.

Oakford is able to hold in storage 105 billion cubic feet of gas. To do this, two depleted gas sand formations are utilized. Oakford was selected for this purpose because its sands are ideally adapted to hold the gas and prevent leakage, and assure high deliverability when it comes time to remove the gas for winter use.

All Summer, when demand is least, Texas Eastern pumps large volumes of gas into Oakford replacing what was used during the previous cold weather season. When winter arrives, the pool is full and the gas is removed as needed to fill the increased demands.

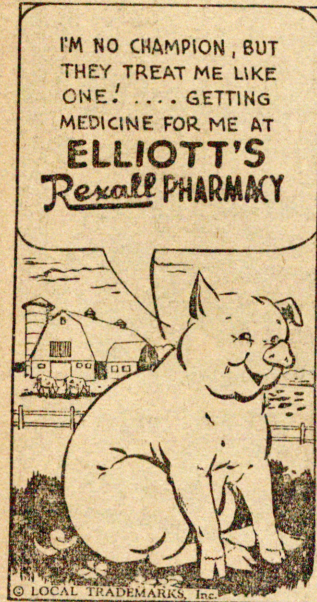

Texas Eastern combines long-distance pipelines and underground storage to assure a continuing, ample supply — the year 'round — of this clean, economical and adaptable fuel — NATURAL GAS.

Await O.K. From Power Company To Put Unit 3 Lights Into Use

Sycamore 8-6620
By CHLOE WHITE

The regular monthly meeting of the Homeowners' Association was held in the former Homeowner's house on Tuesday, Oct. 14th.

Ray Gaertner, chairman of the covenants committee reported that the lights in Unit III are ready and are only in need of the Commonwealth Edison OK to be put in use. Problems regarding maintenance of the main drainage ditches and the Sinclair Oil pipeline are still unsolved but are still in the hopper.

Homeowner's Park, located just north of the fire house has been tiled and seeded. It is being watered by the members of the fire department in return for use of the parking area.

The duplicator machine is doing yeoman duty having already printed over 11,000 sheets of paper for various organizations in the community. A record of paper used is being kept and charges will be made for this service.

At the last meeting it was voted to lend the city government $2000 to purchase necessary equipment. It has been found that this is illegal and the motion was rescinded.

Several new directors of the Association were then introduced. Alvin Gran was appointed to take Stan Sylwestrak's place, and Jack Lynch was appointed to replace Andrew Coutamoras place. Tom Quigley held a meeting in his home for the residents in his district and reported that interest was high. Newly elected director to replace Agostino Cuppari is Richard Brizzolara.

Because of the recent changes in the by-laws modifying the permanent committees a list of suggested personnel for the newly created permanent committees was announced. Each committee will work under the aegis of a member of the executive committee and their assignments are as follows: By-laws committee, Rusty Wilson; covenants and construction approval, Tom Quigley; purchase, James Lanigan; publicity and social events, Cole Keys and road, ditch and drainage plus youth activities, Larry Simon. The committees are set up as follows: chairman, Don Merriam, William Marquardsen, Gene Landenberger and Leo Letourneau; Covenants: chairman, Don West, Ray Gaertner, Ralph Rampage and Clarence Leek; Construction approval: chairman, John Toner, Albert Matthews, Ray Winters and John Nicholson; Road, ditches and drainage: chairman, Richard Brizzolara, James Martin and William Biddle; Social: chairman, Clyde Bennison, Jane Wulf and Chuck Smith; Audit: chairman, Clifton Arehart, Cecil Crawford and John Toner; Purchase: chairman, William Cannon, Clyde Bennison and James O'Connell; Publicity and public relations: chairman, Alvin Gran, Lorayne Gran and Al Katz; Youth activities: chairman, Danny Williams, Dan Berdan and Millie Berdan.

Tom Quigley was appointed to head a committee whose purpose is to strive for a 100% turnout in the November election. After much discussion a motion made to donate $25 to the Boy Scout fund drive was defeated. It was stressed that this was necessary because it would set a precedent. Also discussed was the legality of donating money that had been collected essentially to be used in the enforcement of the covenants.

The purchase of a storage cabinet for the use of the secretary was approved as was the purchase of especially prepared cards for use with the duplicator machine.

Rusty Wilson, secretary, announced that the books are open and may be examined at any reasonable hour.

City Council
The following statement was issued Monday by Mr. Ottmar Becker, Building Commissioner of Country Club Hills: "Due to the newness of our city ordinances regulating building, some confusion has occurred in the application for building permits. Any resident of Country Club Hills who is contemplating any alteration or addition to his residential building should remember the following points:

1. An application must be submitted to and approved by the building commissioner, and a building permit fee paid to the city clerk before construction can commence.

2. Each prospective builder is reminded that he should check his building plans with the protective covenants committee of the Homeowner's Association. The city building permit does not remove the homeowner from his obligation under the protective covenants.

3. All forms can be obtained from the building commissioner. Any questions or details should also be submitted to him. His office is at 4750 West 179th place and his telephone number is SY 8-5488."

Virginia Bennison, city clerk reminds the residents that copies of the building code ordinance are available at the city clerk's office, 4730 181st St. Also that state license applications are available as well.

Fire Protection District
The firemen have done it again! The Fall Fling was the success everyone expected. The turnout was spectacular but due to the size of the Tinsley ballroom, there was still ample room in which to circulate.

Agostino Cuppari, vice president of the Firemen's Club and general chairman of the dance, as well as his committee, deserve all the praise heaped on them by everyone attending.

Guest speakers at the dance were Joseph E. Merriam, developer of Country Club Hills, Edward J. Derwinski, Republican candidate for Congress from the 4th District and Al Sheely, campaign manager for Leland H. Rayson, Democratic candidate. Because of other commitments Mr. Rayson was unable to attend.

Group Hears Results of 1947 Survey on Mentally Handicapped

Members of the Council for Handicapped and visitors heard Arnold Levin, executive director of the South Suburban Counseling Service, talk on "What of the Mentally Retarded in Adulthood" at a recent meeting.

In addition to discussing what he had learned at seminars on mental retardation at the University of Chicago this past summer, he read excerpts from the book, "Social Adjustment of Morons in a Connecticut City".

The book describes a controlled study of adult morons made in 1947. The study was made of 256 mentally deficient adults of an average age of 24.5 years and 129 normal adults. The book defines a moron as a person having an IQ rating of from 45 to 75.

Levin emphasized the fact that the term "moron" is no longer used since more is known and attitudes have changed. Today he is called a mentally retarded child or adult. The group concerned in the study today, would be regarded as educable mentally handicapped adults.

Some of the facts revealed by the study were that the mentally deficient were unable to go as far in education as the normal. However, most of them married, had fewer children, fewer divorces, than the normal, and were able to support themselves and dependents and were not social menaces.

probably be run on a flexible classroom plan for the first few years.

Also approved was the sending of a handicapped child from this district to a neighboring district for special training and help. The expense will be assumed by this district.

The first "open house" jointly sponsored by the school district and the PTA was exceptionally well attended. Zenon Zyckuta, superintendent and Donald Schwenk, president of the PTA report. Especially favorable were the comments on the comprehensive reports given by the teachers of the past accomplishments and future plans of each class. Each class room had been decorated with art work by the students and the teachers had taken advantage of the colorful fall foliage and flowers and made each room warm and attractive.

Supt. Zyckuta stressed the fact that parents are always welcome in the classroom. It is suggested, however, that they make arrangements with the teacher in advance.

The PTA room mothers acted as hostess for their respective rooms serving cookies and coffee to all visitors.

Open house for the 6th, 7th and 8th grades will be held tonight, Oct. 23 at the Central school at 8 p.m. All residents of the community are invited to attend.

Foreign Shipping Shows Big Gain At Chicago Port

(CNS)—An increase of 6.7 percent in arrivals of foreign vessels and 1.5 percent in customs receipts during the first nine months of 1953 at the port of Chicago, was announced Friday by Collector of Customs Frank Peska.

Foreign vessel arrivals totaled 470 to Sept. 30, compared with 431 in the same period of 1952, and Peska ascribed this increase to "the larger number of tramp steamers arriving, whose owners seem to be testing out the St. Lawrence waterway in order to form a decision as to whether to set up scheduled operations next year."

The increase in customs receipts, amounting to $466,332 out of total collections of $31,596,157.81, reflected increase in air travel to the port as well as steamer operations, Peska said.

Foreign plane arrivals at O'Hare International airport increased 41 percent, from 2,227 to 3,150, due principally to the commencement of direct air service between Mexico City and Chicago by two lines, American Airlines and Mexican Airlines. Another reason, Peska said is that three airlines, Pan-American, BOAC, and Trans-World, began to clear their Chicago-bound passengers at O'Hare instead of in other cities.

Total passenger arrivals jumped eight-fold, from 3,979 to 31,940, as a result of these developments.

Foreign mails cleared thru customs at Chicago increased from 1,451,497 to 1,486,232.

After the hay ride everyone returned to the Mulderinks for refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sick-meyer entertained Mrs. Sickmeyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Schultz and daughter Kathleen as well as Mr. Sickmeyer's mother, Mrs. Arthur Sickmeyer. They reside in St. Louis, Mo. and were here for the weekend.

TOUR REFINERY
Five students from Lincoln-Way joined representatives of Joliet township high school, Joliet Junior college and Downers Grove high school to tour the Standard Oil Co. refinery at Whiting, Ind., on Monday, Oct. 13. The L.W. group was composed of Jim Gast, Linda Matasovic, Charles Otto, Dona Anderson, and Lee Yunker. They were accompanied by Frank Goetschel, building superintendent at the high school, and the sponsor of the group, Earl Schroeder of New Lenox.

The group first visited the administration and engineering building located at Hammond, where a guide explained the facts involving all phases of Standard Oil. Next they drove in their chartered bus to the refinery and viewed such works as the barrel filling stations and other interesting parts. They stopped at the "cat cracking" unit in East Chicago, and then returned to the administration building where they enjoyed a fine dinner as guests of the company. The trip concluded in the same building, where the students were allowed to view the experimentation going on in the laboratories and several Standard Oil Company officials answered questions about the organization. Every employee at Standard Oil has a definite job on which he concentrates. The students were pleased that they had been invited to see such a worthwhile part of our country today.

BREAK G.A.A. RECORDS

Five out of the ten standing records were broken in the 1958 G.A.A. track meet held at Lincoln-Way Oct. 6-9. The girls, who had only one practice and no formal training, tried their skills in running, throwing, and jumping. Outstanding was Ella Jensen's high jump of 4'4" which broke the old record set by Marilyn Boleman. Judy Mulligan was next highest with 4'.

Ella, who is Lincoln-Way's foreign exchange student from Denmark, also broke the standing hop, skip, and jump record by 9".

The softball throw record of 1957 was topped by two girls, Roseann Delaney, who threw 165' and Vera Chandler with 142'3".

Five girls bettered the basketball throw record. Roseann was the best with a 101 foot heave.

Kay Swinford was tops in broad jumping, leaping 7'4". The girls made good showings in other events but no new records were made.

PROJECTIONISTS

At the last meeting of the Projectionist club the members elected the following officers: President, Clem Heisner; Vice-President, Marilyn Schultz; Secretary, Vivienne Eisenbrandt; Treasurer, Arnie Hermann; and Reporter, Mary Ann Snider.

Since the club is so large, it will be divided into two groups, each group being guided by either Mr. Hardy or Mr. Christion. These groups will study running projects and all other visual-aid equipment owned by the school.

BAND OFFICERS

The Lincoln-Way Band officers, who are Chuck Hammond, president; Ron Steinberg, vice president; Sharyn Jedlick, secretary; Gwen Doering, treasurer; Lois Sluiter, reporter; and Penny Flegen, head librarian, have recently appointed the band section leaders and alternates. The 1958-59 leaders and alternates are: Flutes and Oboe—Gwen Doering, leader; Penny Flegen, alternate. Clarinets—Ron Steinberg, leader; Lois Sluiter, alternate. Alto Clarinet, Bass Clarinet, and Bassoons—Sharyn Jedlick, leader; Diana Mankowski, alternate. Cornets—Shirley Sievert, leader; Charles Miller, alternate. Horns—Jonelle Roberson, leader; Gene Cline, alternate. Baritone and Trombones—Chuck Hammond, leader; Dick Hammond, alternate. Basses—Les Michalec, leader; Le Roy Bitter, alternate; and Percussion—Tom Peterson, leader; Dave Larson, alternate.

The section leaders and alternates are assigned to promote order and help develop good musicianship in their section. They should set examples for every band member to follow and help the band in any other possible way.

DRAMATICS CLUB

The Junior-Senior Dramatics club, also known as "Foot-lighters", has begun its year with the assistance of a new sponsor, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Elliott, who teaches Speech and Dramatics and senior English classes at Lincoln-Way. Mrs. Elliott introduced many ideas to the members at their last meeting, including plans for a trip to a Chicago theatre and participation in the Thespian Regional Convention at Wheaton in the near future. The main business consisted of joining the national Thespian group, and discussion centered around which members would be eligible to participate. Officers who were elected followed: President, Arnie Hermann; vice president, Chuck Hunter; secretary, Marilyn Schultz; treasurer, Annis Weber; and reporter Linda Matasovic.

"THE WOLF DEN"

By Sharon Wolf
Hi! Wasn't that an impressive Homecoming assembly last week? I was certainly satisfied with the results of the election—Patty Dath, Queen; Members of her court—Arnie Hermann, Janet Wise, Gayle Harling, Barbara Borchart, and honorary member, Ella Juul Jensen.

There is a speech-making fanatic in Latin II. Jonelle makes speeches about books, movies—anything. Speaking of Latin II, little Joan Sorenson brings clay to class to play with.

I've found some keen college and scholarship material in the office. I didn't even know there was that much information!

Ella got those bright blue leotards at her surprise birthday party Oct. 8. Pretty sharp, eh?

Mister Roberts To be Presented By Area Actors

Fifteen men from Homewood and nearby towns "enlisted" in the cast of the Homewood Players forthcoming Mister Roberts, director Bob Goers announced.

Gene Fairfield, Harvey, will portray Mister Roberts, the likeable, excitable executive officer of a rust bucket steamer during the war.

Bud Parish, Homewood, was cast as Doc, the calm, friendly ship's doctor whose chief function is passing out aspirin on cargo days.

The only female role in the play will be carried by Jeanne Stevenson, Homewood, as the nurse who visits the AK 601 on the invitation of Ensign Pulver.

Norm Paasch, Harvey, plays the hapless, disorganized Ensign Pulver, a ladies' man from way back and a Naval officer by accident.

The part of the tyrannical, ambitious Captain who uses Roberts' good work to get a promotion, is played by Charles Henderson, Homewood.

Other Homewood residents in the cast are James Downing, Bob Nelson, Dick Nuefeld and Jack McReynolds.

The rest of the crew are John Saxby and Cliff Wyckoff, Harvey; Jerry Ingwersen and Henry Noetzel Riverdale; Ken Row, Thornton; Gordon Bulow, Mokena; Bill Smith, Calumet City and Al Pask, Chicago.

Mister Roberts will be given Nov. 7 and 8 at the Homewood Business director, Norman Village auditorium.

Berman, said that tickets can be purchased by mail by writing to the Homewood Players, P. O. Box 5, Homewood, Ill.

Blended Price on Milk Shipped To Chicago Set at $3.66 per cwt.

Dairy farmers of four states delivering milk to Chicago under Federal Order 41 will receive a blended price of $3.66 per cwt. of 3.5% milk delivered to dealers' plants within the 55 to 70 mile zone during September, according to Harry L. Edwards, Director of Sales for Pure Milk Association. The butterfat differential is 7.2 cents per point.

The $3.66 price includes an additional payment of 9 cents per cwt. resulting from the agreement negotiated with Chicago milk dealers by Pure Milk Association last February.

By coincidence, the September price is also 9 cents per cwt. higher than the price for August milk delivered on the Chicago market. According to Edwards, this 9 cent increase was due principally to a large increase in shipments of Class I milk to southern states, coupled with some additional local demands.

The increase in Class I sales and the additional 9 cents provided by the superpool negotiations brought the September producer price to within 4 cents of the September 1957 price of $3.70.

This combination of increased sales and the superpool premium have temporarily countered the effect of reduced support prices and the increase in production over September.

How to Park Easier than Where to

One of the principal traffic difficulties for many drivers is parking, according to the Motor club.

Matthew C. Sielski, director of the club's safety and traffic engineering department, points out that motorists have two main parking problems:

—They tie up traffic by taking too long to get their cars into a parking space.

—Some park improperly, with either the front or rear of their cars out in the street.

Parking in a limited curbside space is not an altogether easy assignment for all drivers. But safety experts explain that parking is a good indication as to how well a driver can control his car.

Sielski suggests that those who want to practice parking, do so away from traffic. But if you aren't a good parker, he recommends thorough practice, since parking is an essential driving skill.

Here are some parking tips suggested by the club's safety and traffic engineering department:

1. Signal for a stop. Drive alongside the car in front of the intended parking place. Stop when the rear bumper of your car is beside the rear of the parked car in front of you. This first position is of prime importance. bumper of the adjacent car.

2. Back very slowly, steering sharply toward the curb until your car is at nearly a 45 degree angle with the curb. Your front door should now be opposite the rear bumper of the adjacent car.

3. Straighten the front wheels. Continue backing into the parking space until the end of your bumper is opposite the end of the rear bumper of the parked car in front of you.

4. Then turn the steering wheel rapidly in the opposite direction as far as it will go while backing slowly into the parking space. The rear wheel should now be close to the curb but should not touch it.

5. Go slowly forward, turning the steering wheel so as to bring the car parallel to the curb. Stop the car after centering it at about an equal distance from cars ahead and behind you.

hind you.

Parking really is quite an art. But with a little practice, proper parking should become easy, say the experts.

Safety Hints For Children On Halloween

The National Safety Council reminds parents of the danger of allowing small children to roam dark streets on Oct. 31 seeking Halloween treats.

To prevent Halloween from becoming a tragic rather than happy experience for children, the Council advises:

Buy your children light-colored costumes—they're easier to see at night. And make sure the outfits are not tripping hazards, and that they are flameproof.

Masks are dangerous because they restrict vision. They are also hot and some are scratchy, so kids will welcome a painted false face. A little rouge, eyebrow pencil and mustache stick can make children miniature ghosts, goblins, pirates or clowns, but with the added safety factor of allowing them to see danger in time to avoid it.

Remind children that on Halloween, as during the rest of the year, such safety precautions as these should be observed.

STUDY SEWER ROUTE Roy Benson, president of the Orland Park Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. Margaret Loebe, secretary, are viewing the line for an outlet from the proposed sewage treatment plant the Chicago Sanitary District plans for Orland Park. District trustees have said they will take bids on the plant next month. Later the territory will be served by high interceptors that will feed into a treatment works for the area. The plant proposed now will serve a population of 16,000, according to sanitary district engineers. One of the engineers recently appeared before the Orland Chamber of Commerce and explained the plan. (Marvin Smith photo)

NEW UNIT now open in New Lenox shopping center on U. S. 30 at eastern edge of village. The new store adjoins the Economy Supermart and house the Braun Sales company and the Facinelli bakery. At the side is a view of the interior of the Braun Sales store which is operated by LaVerne S. Brown and J. E. Hartong, who deal in everything from thread to tools and paints to ping pong, including all the famous name brands. The firm started up about three years ago in the center of the village. At that time a space 20 by 40 was sufficient. After some months, however, it added another 20 feet. It now occupies a space 60 by 90. The new store buildings were built by the owners of the Economy market, John and Lloyd Berlin, father and son, and Edward Kabat. It is expected that other units will be built later. Sees Hike in Social Security Rates, Benefits

Social security benefits and rates are both due for a hike in 1959, according to Norm Krausz, professor of farm law at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

People now drawing benefits will automatically get 7 percent larger payments starting next January. These people do not need to reapply for the new larger payments.

Rate increases, also starting Jan. 1, will raise the present 2 1/2 percent social security tax rates for both farm employers and employees to 2 7/8 percent each. At the same time, the social security tax base will go up from $4,200 to $4,800.

Under the new rules, a farm worker earning $4,800 will have $120 withheld from his salary. His employer will pay another social security tax for the $120, bringing the total employee to $240.

In addition, farm operators will have to pay more on their own social security tax. Self-employment rates will go up from the present 3 3/8 to 3 7/8 percent, meaning a payment of $180 on earnings of $4,800.

Percentage-wise the rates will go up more than the benefits — rates increase 11 percent, while benefits increase only 7 percent. But other changes help to offset this difference.

One reason for the higher rates is new benefits, Krausz explains. Qualifications for disability benefits have eased, making it possible for more people to get payments. The new system also contains improvements in benefits for disabled and adopted children.

Another reason for the rate hikes is simply to help the social security system break even. Some administrators had forecast a social security deficit in the future unless the higher rates were put into effect.

For farmers with a seasonal work load, there are more changes. Starting in 1959, some farmers with yearly incomes over $1,200 can get payments for months in which the farm work load is slack if they do not earn more than $100 a month off the farm. This year, payments would not be made in any month

Farm Owners Pay Whacking Big Tax Bill

Illinois farm landowners paid a record-sized tax bill of $106 million this year, according to N. G. P. Krausz, University of Illinois professor of agricultural law.

This tax, based on 1957 assessments, jumped 11 percent over the year before and is 348 percent more than in 1940. Real estate taxes absorbed almost 11 percent of total Illinois net farm income in 1957, Krausz figures.

Among corn-belt states, Illinois tax levies were the highest. Illinois land carried an average tax levy of $3.50 an acre, while remaining corn-belt states averaged only $1.77. The average tax per acre for all states was $2.97. Only four northeastern states carried higher tax levies than Illinois.

Some might think that the high value of farm land in Illinois compared with other states may explain the higher taxes. But when taxes are computed on the basis of $100 full value, the Illinois tax levies jumped nearly five percent this past year, while the U. S. average went up only 1.1 percent and other corn-belt states increased less than .3 percent. So, even figuring this way, Illinois remains among the leaders in percent of tax increase.

The lion's share of real estate taxes is used for public schools, Krausz points out. School enrollment rose 33 percent from 1946 to 1956, and another 40 percent jump is expected by 1965. This rapid climb in school population creates unprecedented needs for new schools, more teachers and more operating revenue.

So, as long as the tax structure remains basically the same in Illinois, the result will be more increases in real property taxes, Krausz concludes.

Chopped sorghum should not cause digestive troubles in steer calves unless it is overfed. But start the calves on it easily.
